A Call for escalation and resistance

O masses of our heroic people; O those creating glory and heroism in the centers of struggle and heroism while rejecting this occupation, its unprecedented measures of oppression against our people, the escalation of its daily crimes and executions taking place unceasingly...; O lovers of Martyrs (Shahids); O generation of devotion and sacrifice; O you who teach the occupation a lesson from the lessons of this mighty people through your willpower, resolve, and giving:

While we repeatedly emphasize that this uprising will continue and develop into an all-out intifada against the occupation and its settlers, as a popular and permanent situation in which our people demonstrate their continued walking along the path of struggle and resistance until the occupation’s defeat, we, the national and Islamic forces of the Ramallah and El-Bireh district, reiterate our commitment to continue along this path until [the achievement of] absolute freedom and independence in a fully sovereign state with Jerusalem as its capital, self-definition, and the return of the refugees to their lands, according to [UN] Resolution 194...

We call on our people to participate in the [following] activities:

- To consider Wednesday, Nov. 11, 2015, the 11th anniversary of the death of the Martyr, the late President Yasser Arafat, as a day of all-out escalation against the occupation...

- To consider Friday, Nov. 13, 2015, as a day of escalation in the field against the occupation and settlers in all regions of the conflict...

- On Saturday, Nov. 14, 2015 a memorial service will take place for the heroic Martyr, Muhannad Halabi, marking the 40th day since his death, at 1:00 p.m. in the Salim Afandi hall in El-Bireh, where our people will highlight the Martyr’s will: to continue the resistance until the occupation’s defeat”

37. Fatah’s military wing “blesses” bus bombing in Jerusalem that injured 21

An Announcement on behalf of the Al-Aqsa Martyrs’ Brigades (Fatah’s military wing) – Palestine
‘The Martyr Nidal Al-Amoudi Division’

The Al-Aqsa Martyrs’ Brigades blesses the self-sacrificing operation (i.e., bombing of a bus on April 18, 2016) in Jerusalem.

For our Jerusalem and our Al-Aqsa Mosque, the good news of victory keeps arriving today, in a display we have not seen in a long time – a bus bombing operation in the occupied city of Jerusalem, in which dozens of Zionists were injured.

The Al-Aqsa Martyrs’ Brigades’ Al-Amoudi Division blesses the self-sacrificing operation and emphasizes that this operation is a natural response to the occupation’s ongoing crimes and clear evidence that the free men in the West Bank have answered the call of their Brigades, according to which the Martyrdom-seeking operations are the best option of response to the occupation’s crimes in the West Bank, Gaza Strip and Jerusalem. Likewise, the Brigades call on their fighters in the West Bank and Jerusalem to fight with every possible means, and call on all of their people to mobilize at all points of friction [with Israel] and in direct operations (i.e., attacks) which will place the settlers on the land of Palestine in [fire] range of the rifles of the Brigades, wherever they [the settlers] are.

The Brigades stress that this operation indicates that our people adheres to the option of armed struggle against the occupation with all possible means until its [Israel’s] degrading expulsion from Palestine.

The revolution is until victory

More than a day after they got lost at sea, they reached the shore of Ma’agan Michael (i.e., Israeli kibbutz) on Saturday morning, March 11, 1978. 34. Official Fatah Facebook praises 3 murderers who murdered 18 Israelis in 1974

Posted text: “Did you know that Fairuz’s song Alone They Remain was written in honor of these three? For anyone who does not know the story of the song Alone They Remain Like the Elderberry Flowers that Fairuz sings, it was written by the Lebanese poet Talal Haidar... There was a period when Talal Haidar would drink his morning coffee and would notice three young men entering the forest in the morning and come out again in the evening, and every time they entered and came out, they greeted Talal. He wondered: What are those young men doing in the forest from morning to evening? Until the day came when they greeted Talal Haidar in the morning and entered the forest, and when he went out in the evening to drink his coffee, he did not see the young men come out. He waited for them, but they did not come out. He worried about them until he heard the news that three young Arabs carried out a self-sacrifice (Fida'i) operation (i.e., terror attack, 18 murdered) within the Zionist entity. When he saw the picture of the three, he was surprised that the three young men who died as Martyrs (Shahids) were the same young men he had gotten used to receiving greetings from morning and evening. This operation became known as the Al-Khalisa operation (i.e., the Kiryat Shmona massacre, April 11, 1974), that was carried out in the settlement of Kiryat Shmona in northern occupied Palestine on the morning of April 11, 1974. Its heroes were fighters of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine – General Command (PFLP-GC), the Palestinian Munir Mughrabi ‘Abu Khaled,’ the Syrian from Aleppo Ahmad Al-Sheikh Mahmoud, and the Iraqi Yassin Musa Fazza Al-Houzani ‘Abu Hadi,’ who died as a Martyr on the day of the operation.”
